MEDIA ALERT

IK Multimedia updates iGrand Piano and iLectric Piano Apps with Audiobus compatibility

Now use iGrand Piano and iLectric Piano with your favorite sequencing, effects and recording apps

May, 2013 — IK Multimedia, the leader in mobile music-creation apps and accessories for iPhone, iPad and iPod touch — is pleased to announce that iGrand Piano for iPhone, iPad and iPod touch, and iLectric Piano for iPad is now Audiobus compatible, allowing players to use these apps with their other Audiobus-compatible music apps like AmpliTube and GarageBand.

Audiobus is a music utility app that lets mobile musicians route audio between their favorite music apps. It connects the output of compatible apps together, allowing mobile music apps to be used much like plug-ins for DAWs, thus greatly expanding their usefulness and creative potential. For instance, musicians can now use the amazing lush sounds of iLectric Piano and ultra realistic sounds of iGrand Piano with GarageBand or the multi-track recorder in AmpliTube by simply launching Audiobus and connecting the apps together. And they can use their favorite effects processing app, like AmpliTube, to get even more creative with sound design. Connecting apps in Audiobus is much like using cables to connect various pieces of gear together. It's simple to use, and fun.
