FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*IK Multimedia Ships iKlip StudioThe Desktop Studio Stand for iPad is now shipping*

March 2012 – IK Multimedia proudly announces that iKlip™ Studio, the iPad® desktop studio stand, is now available and shipping worldwide. iKlip Studio is an innovative, essential tool designed and created specifically for musicians but can be used by anyone needing a sturdy, non-slip, multi-angle adjustable stand for all iPads, including the just released 3rd generation iPad.

The new iKlip Studio is constructed of lightweight, shock-resistant, durable thermoplastic material that sturdily and reliably supports the iPad in both horizontal and vertical positions. Rubber foot pads grip the desktop surface and prevent unwanted sliding, and convenient slots in the housing allow access to every port of the device for charging or connecting to external speakers with handy channels for keeping the cables neatly organized.

Apps like synthesizers, beat pads and other instruments can be played energetically on the multi-touch screen with no risk of the device moving or sliding. Its flexible orientation allows its position to tilt from a very low-profile angle – ideal for use with apps like mixers or controllers – to a near-vertical position for use as a reader for
